FRESH NEWS FROM THE Paddock

🌸 Our favourite ... SPRING time! 🌸

Time to enjoy the flowers!!

So excited that Everlastings are slowly starting to flower! Here's some of my fav pics to share 🌸❤️

Tips for Everlastings in a Vase~

- 1) Hold the flowerhead in your fingertip
 - 2) Slide your fingers down the stem to remove leaves and simply snap at the base
 - 3) Place all stems together, evening them up at the flowers
 - 4) With secateurs, snip to make the bunch the same height
 - 5) Place in a vase and change water regularly
 - 6) Pick away droopy or deteriorating flowerheads over their duration

Verge planting!!
 Why not plant your verge to everlastings..?
 It is WATERWISE, EASY-CARE and looks FANTASTIC!!!
 Start preparing now, by controlling the weeds and having a nice clear area for scattering seeds
 in April / May.
 Way to go!!

🌸 This is a picture of my driveway on the farm 🌸

The ground was prepared by removing the weeds, then scattering the Everlastings four years ago, and they have continued to come back ever since. There is some capeweed appearing, so only one more year of beautiful flowers, then we will have to control of the weeds again. That would entail removing all weeds in autumn and resowing the entire section with fresh seed.

DOWN ON THE FARM

Here's a pic of our 2023 everlasting crop!
Planted late to control the weeds and seeding canola took precedence!!

Always something to do on the farm.
Always fixing up things, so everything runs smoothly when that job comes up. This is the airseeder being prepared for seeding
in April/May.

This is our crop planted in 2022 and self-seeding. it will only be used for flower picking!

Canola flowering always brightens your day 😊

🌸 It's too late to plant, but not too late to
